

Department of Languages and Literature

Philosophy and Goals of the Department

The English, French, German, Greek, Latin, and Spanish programs are designed to provide students with the special knowledge, skills, and pedagogy needed to enter graduate or professional schools or to gain employment in their field. Consequently, students completing these major programs are expected to have

- an understanding of the basic knowledge, concepts, and critical theories of the major field;
- the critical thinking skills needed for generating and analyzing both literary and expository texts;
- an ability to read, speak, and write in a second language;
- the writing and speaking skills needed to communicate effectively in the field;
- an understanding of cross-cultural issues.
