Scope, Content, and Arrangement

Collection Summary

Arrangement and Description: Student files from Carroll College. These files are arranged alphabetically based on student's last name. Files include correspondence between college staff and parents, college applications, requests and copies of transcripts, health records, and newspaper clippings from notable events. These files are separate from students' permanent records. The contents differ dramatically from one student to the next. Many students wrote to the college after graduation requesting transcripts or other business. Many applications came with photographs (headshots) and there are some photos of athletes for Carroll. In 1957, 21 students were brought to Carroll from Hungary after the Hungarian Revolution of 1956. Their files contain applications and some admission interview materials.

Additionally, Box 3 of this collection includes national test results for students across multiple placement tests. The records include students' names and test scores, as well as many sample tests. There is a list of ecclesiastical students, including the application to be a Diocese of Helena seminary student.

Biographies:

Andrew Van Corry was born September 13, 1837, in Newport News, Maryland. He moved to Georgetown, Colorado, at the age of twenty-one, and to Bannack, Dakota Territory in June 1863. He placer-mined near Alder Gulch and served as county clerk and recorder of Madison County. In 1879 Corry moved to Butte, Montana Territory, where he mined, worked as city circulator for three daily newspapers, and served as clerk of the school board. He was one of the original locators of the first recorded quartz claims (Missoula Lode) made in Butte. He was active in the Masons for fifty years.

On May 29, 1873, Corry married Anna Martha Mattingly. She was born in Florissant, Missouri, on January 8, 1853. The couple had three sons, Arthur Vincent (1874-1945), Clarence Andrew (1876 -1918), and John Basil (1882-1904), and one daughter, Agnes Philomena (1879-1949, married George B. McDonald). Anna Martha Mattingly Corry died in Butte on April 8, 1887. Andrew Corry died on June 9, 1911.

Arthur Vincent Corry was born in Virginia City, Montana Territory on May 10, 1874. He moved to Butte with his family in 1879. From 1891 to 1894 he attended Notre Dame University and from 1894 to 1898 he attended the Colorado School of Mines. After graduating, Corry worked for mines, mills, and smelters in Colorado, Nevada, Utah, and Arizona. He returned to Butte in 1902 to work with his father developing mining properties. In 1912 he formed a partnership with Azelle E. Hobart and Francis T. Morris, Harper, McDonald & Co., a consulting civil and mining engineering firm. Between 1926 and 1929 he managed Livingston Mines Inc., a lead property in Mackay, Idaho, and then returned to Butte to work anew with Harper, McDonald & Co. Corry established Corry and Morris, consulting mining engineers, in 1930. He served as a field engineer for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Mining Loan Division in 1935, 1936, and 1937. Corry travelled throughout the West, and in Puerto Rico, Argentina, and Brazil examining and appraising mines.

In addition to his involvement in mining, Corry served three terms as alderman of Butte (1918-1921?) and one term in the Montana legislature as a Democrat.

Corry married Mary Ann Armstrong on October 23, 1903. The couple had one son, Andrew Vincent Corry. Arthur Corry died in 1945.

Mary Ann Armstrong was born in Victoria, British Columbia on June 23, 1877. She graduated from Mt. Angel Normal and Academy in Mt. Angel, Oregon, in 1892. She lived in Butte her entire married life. Upon her husband's death Mary Ann Armstrong Corry resided with her son in India, Spain, and Pakistan. She died on August 25, 1958, while residing in Lahore.

Andrew Vincent Corry was born in Missoula, Montana on September 22, 1904, and was raised in Butte. He attended Mount St. Charles High School in Helena from 1918 to 1922, and Mount St. Charles College in Helena from 1922 to 1924. From 1924 to 1926 he attended Harvard College in Cambridge, Massachusetts, graduating in 1926 with a B.A. In 1926 and 1927 he attended Harvard University, then went to Oxford University in England, on a Rhodes Scholarship from 1927 to 1930. Corry received a B.A. (1929), B.Sc. (1930), and an M.A. (1934) from Oxford. In 1931 he received an M.S. from the Montana School of Mines in Butte.

Corry worked sporadically in Montana as a mining and geological consultant in the 1930s. He taught geology at the Montana School of Mines in Butte (1930-1933) and Montana State University in Missoula (1934-1936). From 1936 to 1938 he worked intermittently as an economic geologist for the National Research Project of the Works Progress Administration in Washington, D.C. He taught German at the Newman School in Lakewood, New Jersey for the 1937-1938 term. Corry helped organize and establish a mining company for Armine Ltd. in Argentina from 1938 to 1939. He returned to Butte in late 1939 where he worked as a consulting geologist until moving to Washington, D.C., in June 1940 to analyze questions pertaining to minerals and metals for the Price Stabilization Unit of the Advisory Commission to the Council of National Defense. In 1941 and 1942 he worked for the Office of Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs and the Department of State, travelling to Latin America to "offset influence and prestige of Axis-sponsored agencies" and schools. In 1943 Corry began work for a Lend-Lease Administration mission in the Belgian Congo. When jurisdiction of this project was assigned to another agency, Corry transferred to the Enemy Branch of the Office of Economic Warfare where he collected and analyzed data relating to metals and mining in Japan's sphere of influence, and other duties. He went to India in 1944 where he engaged in intelligence work, primarily concerning the minerals industry, until 1946.

He returned to Washington, D.C., in 1946 where he began work for the Department of State: as a Special Consultant on American affairs until 1947; Minerals Attache in India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Nepal, Afghanistan, and Burma (1947-1954); Economic Officer and Deputy Director, Madrid, Spain (1955-1957); U.S. Consul General in Lahore, Pakistan (1957-1961); U.S. Ambassador to Sierra Leone (1964-1967); U.S. Ambassador to Sri Lanka and the Republic of the Maldives (1967-1970). Corry retired from the Department of State in April 1970 and worked as a consultant until his death on November 24, 1981. He was awarded an honorary Doctor of Law degree from Carroll College in 1967 and spoke at commencement in 1971.

Andrew Corry never married.

Biography

Robert B. Heywood, a native of Hudson, Wisconsin, Bachelor of Arts of Arts degree in English from the University of Notre Dame and a Master of Arts degree from the University of Chicago. While at the University of Chicago in the 1940s, Heywood became acquainted with scientists (Einstein, Fermi and Oppenheimer) developing the first atomic bomb. He also worked to revive liberal arts education and translated French artist Marc Chagall's work for the Committee of Social Thought. Heywood edited the Committee's book, The Works of the Mind. The Committee of Social Thought appointed Heywood as an honorary member.

After leaving the University of Chicago, Heywood became an organist and choir director at a large metropolitan church. During the 1960s, Heywood held the same position at a New Richmond, Wisconsin church.

In 1967, Carroll College in Helena, Montana, hired Heywood as an English professor to teach several poetry and writing courses. While teaching at Carroll, Heywood resided in St. Charles Hall. He critiqued local plays and music presentations. In the 1970s, Heywood planned and participated in the Humanities program, which was the predecessor to the Honors Scholars Program. Due to health reasons, Heywood retired from Carroll at the end of the 1980-81 academic year and remained in Helena until he died in the mid-1980s.

Heywood frequently contributed essays to religious magazines such as Orates Frates and Worship, composed religious and other verses, arranged masses, and created Christmas cards.

Biography

Robert Vincent Kavanagh, Rev., was born to Robert Michael and Bridget Kavanagh in Livingston, Montana, on 27 February 1905. As a child, Kavanagh and his family moved to Butte, Montana, where he attended St. Mary's and Immaculate Conception parochial schools and graduated from Boys' Central High School in 1922. Kavanagh then attended Mount St. Charles College where, in 1926, he received his B.A. in Latin and Greek. Continuing his education at the University of Southern California, Kavanagh received his master's degree in education, History, according to some resources, in 1927. After completing his M.A., Kavanagh entered the Sulpician Seminary at Catholic University in Washington, D.C. On 30 May 1931 Fr. Kavanagh was ordained in St. Helena's Cathedral in Helena, Montana. At Carroll College, Kavanagh taught Biology, Education, English, French, Philosophy, and Psychology. Kavanagh also served as dean of men and college registrar for five years. While working for Carroll College, Kavanagh earned an M.A. and a Ph.D. in English from the University of Madison in 1944. In May 1951, Kavanagh was appointed the president of Carroll College, elevated to domestic prelate, and given the title of Monsignor. The position of Carroll College president was held by Kavanagh from 1951 until his death, when Fr. R.G. Hunthausen succeeded him.
